

PERSONAL STATEMENT

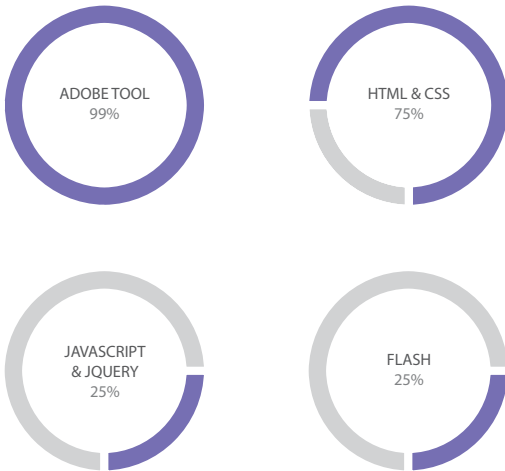

I majored in Advertising & Multimedia Design at Hongik University, which is a reputable university of arts in South Korea. The school produced lots of passionate competitors, offered great atmosphere and set a freewheeling lifestyle for student, and these conditions assisted me to devote in my study field. Through designing many websites over a decade, I have learned that a good design skill alone is not sufficient for achieving my goals of becoming a successful designer.

I think a successful designer should have the ability to manage his or her work, lead and cooperate with other designers, and understand international cultures and markets. Also, a designer must be capable of accepting, applying and understanding a client's request and think of exceeding brand's image while designing.
